Goodcents Foundation Charity Golf Tournament Raises Record Funds Proceeds to Benefit Education Programs Focused on Sustainability

De Soto, KS – Goodcents Foundation announced today that it raised a record amount of proceeds from its 30th Annual Goodcents Foundation Charity Golf Tournament held at the exclusive Shadow Glen Golf Club on October 12, 2020. A major contributor to the overall success was Digital Ally, the overall tournament sponsor.

The day's highlights included two raffles and a silent auction that was heavily supported by legacy donors, major vendors and Sporting KC. Another highlight was trick-shot entertainer Dan Boever, who even had Chiefs great Neil Smith entertaining the crowd, which roared with laughter and applause throughout the interactive experience.

Some of the recent sustainability initiatives Goodcents Foundation has participated in include a new partnership with Kansas City Community Gardens. The relationship's primary focus is on educational programming, which includes the Schoolyard Gardens Program and the Beanstalk Children's Garden.

The foundation launched the incredibly successful Pay it Forward Program with Goodcents and supports Thelma's Kitchen, which is part of Reconciliation Services.

"The overall Goodcents Foundation mission is to sustain educational programs, and we are passionate about ensuring that people have access to food and to resources for growing their own food. We are so thankful to our sponsors, players, donors and volunteers who made this record-breaking year possible. Especially during these uncertain times, we are completely humbled by the turnout and support," says Stacy Glazer, Executive Director of Goodcents Foundation.
